Our Mission is financial planning through employee benefits. We accomplish this by creating environments where people are comfortable and find it easy to make their best decisions. When you hire Alexander & Company, you are hiring our ideas, and the ability to turn those ideas into reality. Our clients want us to create better outcomes for their employees' families and help them deliver what is normally viewed as a boring and confusing industry in ways the average person "gets it".

706-491-6645        706-865-2141

ComplianceDirector is a user-friendly web-based training solution that helps employers meet routine and/or mandated training requirements -- without expending scarce in-service time. Rather than delivering mandated training units in face-to-face assemblies, maintaining legal records using sign-in sheets, and struggling to deliver make-up training, systems using ComplianceDirector simply instruct employees to access a web portal and complete specified training by a specific date. All training and assessment modules for each system have databases behind them, recording "successful completers" and creating legal records for you. You then have the potential to sort by school, by year or by name. The training and assessment modules are either created or reviewed by experts in each field. ComplianceDirector also allows a school system to create custom modules for their specific needs, with the same legal backup databases in place as legal records.
